

Un insulated metal ductwork, like these examples, are found basements, attics, drop ceilings, etc. in homes and business' every where.

A customer in Salt Lake City reports he coated the ductwork in his home with Thermo-shield and now has “nice hot air even in the rooms that use to barely get warm”